In Memoriam.

Miss Kaytee Marie Roper whose death occurred at the sweet home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Roper, Flat Rock, N. C., on the 24th of March, 1909, was born Jan. 21st, 1888. When about fourteen years old, Kaytee accepted the gospel of Jesus, was baptized and welcomed into church fellowship by Rev. A. R. Love, then pastor of the First Baptist church, Hendersonville, N. C.

In sweet accord with the guidance of the Holy Spirit this pious young girl exemplified in her daily duties in the home circle and in school the charms of a most beautiful Christian life.

Four years ago her mother's health failed, and while special attentions ceased not amid the long, long weary nights and days of anxious care, her constant prayer was: "O Lord, spare my dear mother, for she is more needed than I am in this home." About one year ago, Kaytee's health became feeble and she realized even in the first stages that she would never recover, and while thus assured, she awaited the hour of relief in the light of unfeeling trust in Jesus. To her father and mother who had done all that love and means could do for her, she said, as the end drew nigh: "Don't weep, but rejoice, I have prayed for a peaceful going, it is given." And as her breathing ceased, a smile was left and lingered in the presence of death.

To all who lived in the circle of her acquaintance, she became a favorite, meriting the respect and esteem of her valued associates. Her fondness for choice religious literature served to mitigate the loss of hearing during her last protracted illness. She could not hear a sound but her vision was so clear she could read until the last.

As an expression of her sweetly cherished sentiment the following lines written as she caught a glimpse of fleeting opportunity, will be read as a whispered admonition from the kindly heart that felt the noble impulse of timely service prompted by the claims of the passing hour:

If you're ever going to love me Love me now, while I can know All the sweet and tender feelings Which from real affection flow.

Love me now while I am living, Do not wait 'till I am gone, And then chisel it in marble— Warm love words on ice cold stone.

If you're dear, sweet thoughts about me, Why not whisper them to me? Don't you know 'twould make me happy, And as glad as glad can be.

If you wait 'till I am sleeping Ne'er to waken here again, There'll be walls of earth between us And I couldn't hear you there.

If you knew someone was thirsting, For a drop of water sweet,

FT. WORTH FIRE SWIFT

303 FAMILIES HOMELESS AND $2,503,000 PROPERTY DESTROYED BY FIRE AT FT. WORTH, TEX.

Fort Worth, Tex., April 5.—Starting in a barn, presumably from a carelessly thrown cigarette, fire destroyed property in the southern portion of Fort Worth, conservatively estimated in value to the extent of two and a half million dollars, caused the death of one person, J. J. Newton, of Krum, Texas, and rendered several thousand persons homeless.

The fire originated in the center of a fashionable residence district, and, fanned by a stiff wind, was beyond control within fifteen minutes after it was discovered.

Spreading to the south, it burned its way through thirty-two blocks and continued until it had swept through the yards of the Texas and Pacific railroad, destroying the railroad buildings and a large amount of rolling stock, where the fire practically burned itself out when nothing further remained in the pathway of the flames.

Three church buildings, the Broadway Baptist and Presbyterian and the Swedish chapel, were among the buildings destroyed, as was the Presbyterian sanitarium. The patients of the latter institution were all removed in safety.

The Texas and Pacific railroad suffered the largest individual loss. Fourteen locomotives were reduced to twisted masses of steel and iron, and several hundred box cars besides the round house and other buildings of the road were destroyed.

Texas & Pacific officials estimate the losses of the road at $1,600,000, while the damage to the church property is estimated at $200,000.

Mexico Wants Diaz to Remain.

Mexico City, April 2.—Delegates came from all parts of the republic of Mexico to express to President Porfirio Diaz their loyalty to his administration and to request him not to give up the presidential office at the close of his present term.

PRESIDENT DIAZ.

The demonstration was the greatest and most brilliant affair of the kind ever held in Mexico. In the grand parade appeared thousands of men representing the various states of the republic, all dressed in the distinctive garb of their parts of the country. An interesting and striking feature of the parade was the division of aged veterans of the war with France for independence.

The parade ended at the national palace, where it was reviewed by President Diaz. The aged ruler received a "delegation of well known men and expressed to them his pleasure at the demonstration. He declared that while health and strength remained to him they would be placed at the service of the republic.

Steel Trust Beaten by Rival.

Pittsburg, Pa.—Beating the United States Steel Corporation, which, it is said, had been intending to secure the property, a deal was closed by independent steel concerns for 100,000 acres of the Pittsburg coking coal, lying in Greene, Fayette and Washington counties, Pennsylvania, at the price of $50,000,000. The property purchased, and on which the first payment was made to representatives of the owner, was held by J. V. Thompson, of Uniontown, Pa., and his associates.

75 Fertilizer Companies Consolidate.

New York.—It was announced that efforts which have been under way for several months to consolidate about seventy-five independent fertilizer companies in the south into a $50,000,000 corporation, have been virtually completed, and it is expected that articles of incorporation will be filed at Albany shortly.
